SHERIFF DAVIS EXPLAINS JOB TO ROTARIANS

Tells of Numerous Duties of
His Office in Interesting Talk Thursday.

The duties of the Sheriff were interestingly told the Rotarians at their weekly meeting Thursday
noon by Sheriff Frank Davis.

In speaking of the Civil Work
of the sheriff's office, Mr. Davis,
stated that there are many things
that must be done before a case is settled. In petitions of property and levying the duties are those of serving papers to being an auctioneer.

A sheriff works not only a few hours a day but must be ready to answer calls 24 hours every day.
Calls are made to the sheriff's office from all parts of the county to quiet disturbances, family quarrels, to hunting criminals and numberless smaller complaints.

INCREASE IN PRISONERS

"The criminal work has increased a great extent in recent years,"
he stated. "During the year 1927,
there were 346 prisoners housed
at the county jail while in 1929, to date, there have been 841 prisoners." This increase has been due to the general depression and
state of unrest in the country.
"The penal institutions are all
overcrowded today," he stated,
and I believe the proposed changes
in pardons would help the situation.

"In fulfilling the duties of the sheriff's office many sad cases are encountered," Sheriff Davis said.
Often times we are called to search a home and find several families living in one room, with
no furniture and small children,
who are forced to live under these conditions with little or no clothing, even in the severest winter
weather."

Sheriff Davis, stressed the possibilities of local organizations
banding together and helping to relieve this situation and help
these youngsters get a start in life that they deserve.

"The duties of being sheriff are interesting and I like the work.
When we are called to get a criminal, we usually get our man, and sometimes we must spend several days and nights, without sleep to accomplish our task."

The meeting of the Rotary club
will be held next week but the program will be dispensed with so
members will have more time to devote to the Pumpkin Show.

Jack Payne, Fire Diving Sensation, Free Attraction At Pumpkin Show

Saturates Clothes With Gasoline, Sets Fire To Himself, Then Dives.

The chairman of the free attraction committee of the Pumpkin Show informs us that an elaborate line up of acts will be seen on the free attraction program. It is the desire of the committee to make

this year's show the most successful on record and with this in mind
they have spared no expense to secure the very best in free attractions.

One of the featured acts to be seen at the show is CAPTAIN JACK PAYNE, the fire-diving
sensational. He offers one of the most thrilling and sensational feats
ever seen at a Pumpkin Show.
This death-defying marvel gives
an exhibition of fancy and high
diving from a hundred foot ladder.
Payne's night performance is very spectacular in that after mounting the 100-foot ladder he saturates
his clothing with gasoline and
then sets fire to it.

If one wants a thrill this is the most ingenious method ever devised
and will prove to be a most thrilling and sensational spectacle to be seen in outdoor entertainment.
The above act will show at Court
and High-sts.

PREMIER GIVES 3 ADDRESSES IN NEW YORK

Has Day of Activity Before Leaving For Canadian Conference.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald belonged to the common people today.

With the pomp and ceremony
of diplomatic functions behind him
Britain's labor premier was back
in what he described as the city
of his adoption for the man in the street to look at. He will be here
three days as the city's guest before leaving for Canada to discuss
with Premier MacKenzie King of the questions resulting from his conference with President Hoover.

The premier is tired. His eyes,
shadowed by deep circles, show
it as does a slight sag in his usually erect shoulders and a tone of weariness in his voice. All of these reveal the toll collected by his Washington trip and its unending round of activities. But there will be no let-up, for today's program calls for three speeches
and the reception between their delivery of at least two deputations and the meeting of as many personal friends as is possible.

Premier MacDonald will begin
his official day at 1 p. m. when he speaks at the Hotel Astor
luncheon of the English-speaking union. At 4 p. m. he will address
a gathering under the auspices of the foreign policy association at
a tea and reception in the Hotel Commodore.

His final and what is expected
to be his most important address
will be delivered at the council on foreign relations dinner to be held at the Ritz-Carlton. This address will be broadcast over a nationwide hook-up by the National Broadcasting Co.

Heading the delegations to be received by the premier will be a group of prominent American socialists and after they have had
an informal meeting with the outstanding leader of the movement,
a delegation from the Jewish
agencies of Palestine will be ushered in.

The premier has expressed a great interest in the luncheon to be tendered him by the English-speaking union. Co-operating in this event are the three English societies—St. George's, St. Andrews and St. David's. John W.
Davis, former ambassador to England, is to preside at the luncheon
and will introduce the premier
who will be the only speaker. Arrangements have been made for
some 5,000 guests.

In the absence of Governor
Roosevelt, Acting-Governor Lehman will deliver greetings from
the State of New York at the foreign policy association tea to be presided over by Paul U. Kellogg, president of the association. Miss Ruth Morgan, as chairman of more than 75 prominent citizens,
will serve on the reception committee.

PLANS FOR AUTO SHOW COMPLETED

Final plans for the Pumpkin Show are taking form and we are assured that as usual the Automobile Show will be a feature of the Pumpkin Show located on W.
Main-st.

At the hour of writing, not all of the dealers have signed up for space but you can be assured that
the wide-awake dealers will be there.

Count on looking over the new
automobiles at the Auto section
when you come to the Pumpkin Show.

The Pumpkin Show is your
show and the dealers who enter automobiles and help make the Pumpkin Show a success are public spirited and deserve your patronage.

The dealers who will display
their cars during the show are:
L. Brehmer, The Harden-Stevens-
son Co., Clifton Auto Sales Co.,
The Leach Motor Co., and Geo. H.
Adkins.

SHEEP CLAIMS

Eighteen sheep claims were ordered paid Thursday by the county commissioners totaling the sum of $432.20.

of the township board of trustees
to succeed the late Charles M.
Justus.

BUCKLEY THRU TO ENTER PEN

Gives Up Fight For Freedom
Telling of Poverty—
Must Pay Fine.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11—(IN-
S.)—Ex-state treasurer, Bert B.
Buckley, who is under sentence to serve two years and six months
in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary,
will not carry his fight for freedom
to the United States supreme court
but will surrender to U. S. Marshal Borthwick within the next few days and begin serving his prison sentence.

Buckley was convicted in the federal court here early this year
on liquor conspiracy and bribery
charges as an outgrowth of the Cincinnati "beer-brewery-bribery"
scandal. It was charged he attempted to bribe John F. Eck-
hart, then acting prohibition commissioner of Ohio and Indiana,
for "protection" for the manufacture of real beer at the Jackson
Brewery company at Cincinnati.

Following his conviction by a jury of 12 men, Buckley carried
the case to the circuit court of appeals and after a lengthy fight, his appeal was denied.

His surrender today came as a surprise. It was generally known that the man was not wealthy, but it was not known that he was pressed financially. At the time of his arrest and trial, he owned a home in Dayton and also kept up a residence here.

The man, about 50-years of age
and gray haired had served one full term as state treasurer and
was starting on his second term
of office when his comensment in
the liquor scandal brought his political ruin.

Buckley must also pay a fine of $1,000.

ADMITS DEATH BY CULT CURE

Tells of Death To Member
While Trying To Cure
Illness.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—
(INS.)—Continuing their investigation of the mysteries of "The Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Eleven," authorities today had obtained an admission
that an aged woman member of
the cult had been bled to death
in an effort to cure her of an illness.

The admission, according to police, was made by Mrs. Walter Blackburn, aged mother of the cult's "high priestess," to Detective William Reed.

Her statement confirms rumors
that Mrs. Frances May Turner
was placed in a specially built
oven and subjected to a terrific heat in conformation with a cult doctrine.

The ceremony took place in the rear of Mrs. Walter Blackburn's cabin in the organization's colony
in the Santa Susanna mountains,
the aged woman is said to have admitted.

The oven, measuring five feet
across, was built especially for the cure, she said.

Mrs. Blackburn's story contradicts emphatic denials of other
members of the religious order
who were questioned regarding
the death of the woman.

Although the ceremony was intended to cure Mrs. Turner of a serious illness, the terrific heat
caused her death a few days after the baking ritual, Mrs. Blackburn explained.

M. E. RALLY

On Sunday, Oct. 13, the Methodist Episcopal church will have a Sunday School rally. Those in charge desire every father and mother to join them in making
this a day when every member of the family will begin the new Sunday School year by attending
the first Sunday.

Members of the Sunday school
are also asked to bring some one
not attending school for religious education.

All Circleville banks will close Saturday all day in observance of Columbus Day.

Cubs Refuse To Admit Defeat After Dropping First Two Series Contests

To Use Root or Guy Bush
Against Probably Veteran
Jack Quinn.

(BULLETIN.)
Chicago was leading Philadelphia, 3 to 1, at the start of the seventh inning today.

George Earnshaw was the Mack hurler and Guy Bush
was on the hill for the Cubs.
Singles by Hornsby and Cuyler in the sixth gave the Cubs their three runs, aided
by a base on balls, and an error by Jimmy Dykes.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)
PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Oct. 11
—Fate will hold the candle 'til
this afternoon while destiny reads, his judgment upon the Chicago Cubs,
twice tried under world series fire
with the Philadelphia Athletics to date and twice beaten.

The Cubs will be given a third
chance today to prove that they are capable of winning a ball
game from the Athletics and, failing here, those blind masters of
man's estate, destiny and fate,
will hesitate no longer. They promptly will order the march to begin to the scaffold of the condemned.

Today, failure meant ruin, and success merely a postponement of the inevitable. Success, in fact,
will have to come galloping up to
the scaffold with a reprieve for
the Cubs not only today but tomorrow as well before they will be deemed to be in line for a full pardon and worthy of the right
to resume their place in the world.

MUST WIN TODAY
But should it lose this third meeting today, it can attempt any disguise it wishes but everybody
will know it for what it is—a ball
club so thoroughly beaten that the rest of the series will be the emptiest of formalities.

In such a case, the event might
end with tomorrow's game and four straight victories for the Athletics, making, in all, 12
straight victories for the American league since the 1926 series.

No wonder, then, that Philadelphia this morning appeared to be taking its first series in 15 years
with admirable sang froid. That Shibe Park was to be sold out to
its capacity of 38,500 was ordained. That the usual zealous waited throughout the night to be the first into the unreserved sections
at 10 o'clock this morning was another development not without custom. There were manifestations inevitably associated with world series baseball.

The betting odds had four dollars ready to deny this possibility against any single dollar that thought there was a chance. But even a diogenes with a search-

light couldn't have found this honest, but ill-advised dollar on the streets of Philadelphia today, as a betting proposition, the series had gone blotto.

The weather for the third game,
however, was scheduled to be all that the doctor ordered. This morning dawned clear but cold,
indicating that Connie Mack, with
a fortune in pitching strength,
would deputize old John Quinn to go out there and battle one and
all. John was understood to be a very good baffle any time the weather was chilly. Guy Bush,
according to Joe McCarthy, will be the Chicago pitcher, this causing much consternation among those who are willing to save baseball from itself any time of the day or night. Anyhow, it was the sense of those assembled in the hotel lobbies this morning that McCarthy ought to come back
with Charley Root for this all-
critical game.

JURY TO PROBE GIRLS' SCHOOL

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 11—(IN-S.)—An extensive grand jury probe
will be made into the alleged irregularities at the Girls' Industrial Home near here. The correctional institution is maintained by the state.

Charges of drinking, immorality,
cruelty and theft of the state's
property has been hurled by County Prosecutor W. W. Hill.

The prosecutor said today that
the grand jurors would probably be summoned next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Elton have charge of the industrial school,
which is located on a beautiful site
along the Scioto river, southwest
of here. The two, superintendent and matron respectively, were appointed during Governor Donahey's
administration and they have served for nearly six years.

Hill indicated he would summon
the two to appear before the grand jury and that the employees, as well as many of the girls at the school, would also be called.

He said he had received reports
of the irregularities and that his subsequent investigation warranted a grand jury probe.

The prosecutor's charges hinge
upon alleged immorality between
the employees and the girl inmates,
drinking by the employees, cruel
treatment of the girls and instances of property thefts.

Superintendent Elton has denied
the charges. He said that he had fired several employees recently and
he charged that the disgruntled
men had spread the charges.

Common Pleas Judge H. W.
Jewell announced he had granted
the request of Prosecutor Hill for a grand jury investigation.

The men's chorus of the Metho-

chased the interest of his partner
and admitted his son, Charles, to the business.

From the time Charles F. Weaver took over the management of the wholesale store its business has been on a steady increase. The store was originally a small one room affair. After several years
in this room business increased to such an extent that the Weaver
block in N. Court-st was erected.

Mr. Weaver was a member of the "Episcopal" church, was 32nd degree Mason and a member of Circleville Lodge No. 77, B. P. O.

The fire however, proved to be a

was burned, with $10 damage.

"I WASTED SIXTY-FIVE YEARS," SAYS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Spinago Puts Ninety-one Year Old Ex-Soldier Back In Shape After Suffering Ever Since Close of Civil War.

Free from misery and suffering for the first time since the Civil War! Sixty-five years of pain ended by just three bottles of Spinago. That is the record of this new wonder tonic in the case of Isaac Grabill, ninety-one year-old veteran of the Civil War who resides between Circleville and Chillicothe on Rural Route No. 6.

ISAAC GRABILL

In the words of Mr. Grabill: "Spinago went to the base of all my troubles in short order and quickly eliminated the cause of my suffering. For sixty-five years, ever since I left the Army at the close of the war, constant and persistent indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation took all the joy out of life. My daily meals, instead of being a pleasure were a duty for me. I took nourishment only to exist because the terrible gas pains after eating and tired feeling caused by stagnant waste in my body made me dread my meals.

"Exposure during the war made my body susceptible to rheumatism and my weakened condition caused by digestive ailments gave an opening to rheumatic troubles. These pains constantly tore at my limbs, keeping me in agony most of the time.

"I didn't sit back and admit I was beaten during all these years. One after another every medicine I came across and one after another they failed. With each failure my hope died farther down until I became desperate and despondent, fully believing that for me there was no cure.

"But I had reckoned without Spinago. This medicine was recommended to me last spring, and I decided to take one more trial. You can well imagine my surprise and joy when I noticed a marked improvement after the first bottle. Two bottles and my stomach troubles became only intermittent. Three bottles and all my ailments vanished. No more indigestion and dyspepsia. My food digests easily and my meals are again a pleasure. No more constipation. All waste matter is quickly and completely eliminated from my body. And best of all no more rheumatic pains. I have the full use of my arms and legs now and I can truthfully say that at ninety-one years of age I feel better and more fit than I have since the old army days. And I have Spinago to thank for this wonderful change in me."

Every day hundreds of residents of this vicinity learn by personal experience that indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, stomach liver and bowel troubles, rheumatism and neuritis simply can't withstand the efficient and powerful action of this master medicine. Every one of the elements contained in Spinago serves a purpose: the cascara to clean and keep open the bowels, the Spinago to supply to the body the necessary rich and to purify and enrich the blood etc. And with all these components working hand in hand it is little wonder that this most important ingredient is Spinago in concentrated form, can perform feats which seem almost the marvelous.

Spinago is sold and guaranteed by Circleville, Ohio. The Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St. and all other good druggists in the country. Adv.

Few People Make Best Use of Their Muscles

Practically every one has from 10 to 20 per cent more muscular strength than he is trained to use. Donald A. Laird says in an article in Hygeia, the health magazine published by the American Medical Association.

Take the simple matter of lifting a heavy weight above the head with one hand, for example. If a person understands how to use his muscles the amount that can be raised can be almost doubled. Suppose that when the arm is hanging at the side 20 pounds is the maximum it can be raised by bending the arm at the elbow. As soon as the forearm is raised so that it is at right angles with the upper arm the weight is handled much more easily.

When the hand carrying the weight is further raised so that it is above on a level with the shoulder the same muscles have an added advantage and can handle more than 40 pounds. There is an increase of from a 20-pound pull to a 40-pound pull simply by a variation of the knowledge of how the arm muscles and bones work as mechanical levers and pulleys.

Mystery of Sleep

Science has solved drugs that induce sleep, but just what it is that brings natural sleep is as great a mystery today as it was to the ancients. It is a mystery which has baffled the wisest of men.

How to Play BRIDGE Series 1929-30 by Wynne Ferguson Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1929, by Hoyte, Jr.

One of the best ways to learn how to play better bridge is by a study of other players' mistakes. To avoid bad play is one way to play well. Here are two examples.

Clubs—K, J, 10

Y B
A Z

No score, rubber game. Z dealt, bid one no trump and A doubled. Y passed. B bid two clubs. Z passed and A bid two spades. What is Y's proper bid?

It would seem inconceivable that any player would do anything with this hand but pass, but Y was a player of little experience so decided that his proper bid was a double of two spades. With only two tricks as a maximum, Y should not consider a double. To double under such conditions, the player should hold at least three tricks. Y, however, was just inexperienced enough to be rash.

The next point to consider with this hand is the proper opening. If you were rash enough to double A's two-spade bid, what would you lead? The proper opening with this hand is undoubtedly the trey of hearts. Y's partner has bid one no trump so should have at least one honor in hearts. It is Y's duty to tell Z as soon as possible of the strength in his hand and what suit to play for; hence the duty to open the heart suit. The fourth-best is the proper opening in any suit unless it contains two or more honors in sequence. In that event, open the higher honor.

In this particular hand, Y made a second mistake. He opened the heart suit but led the jack instead of the trey. Never open an intermediate honor unless holding two in sequence. As a result of Y's bad opening, A and B made their two odd in spades and, as it was doubled, they also scored game and rubber. Thus Y's two mistakes, first the bad double and then the bad lead, gave his opponents a game and rubber to which they were not entitled.

Spades—A, Q, 10, 7

Y B
A Z

No score, rubber game. Z dealt, bid one heart and all passed. If A opened the deuce of spades, how should Z plan the play of the hand?

Z should endeavor to play the hand so that he will stand the best chance to make game. Z can lose one heart, one club and one diamond trick and still score game; so he should plan the play with that idea in mind. There are three finesses that are possible:

First, he can finesse the queen of spades in the hope that if it holds, he can discard the losing diamond on the

Diamonds are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z play the hand so that they will win all of the tricks against any defense?

Solution: Z should lead the deuce of clubs and trump in Y's hand with the seven of diamonds. Y should now lead the ten of diamonds. B cannot discard a club for, if he does, Z with two re-entries can set up a club trick. B is, therefore, obliged to discard either a heart or a spade. It makes no difference which of these two suits is discarded as the holding happens to be the same in both hands.

Suppose B discards the queen of hearts. Z should discard the same suit that B discards, so he should discard the four of hearts. As B discards at this stage is immaterial. Suppose he discards the nine of spades. Y should now lead the suit B discarded. As B discarded hearts, Y should lead the deuce of hearts. Z winning the trick with the ace. Z should then lead the ace of clubs

NESTLE'S MILK

"I WASTED SIXTY-FIVE YEARS," SAYS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Spinago Puts Ninety-one Year Old Ex-Soldier Back In Shape After Suffering Ever Since Close of Civil War.

Free from misery and suffering for the first time since the Civil War! Sixty-five years of pain ended by just three bottles of Spinago. That is the record of this new wonder tonic in the case of Isaac Grabill, ninety-one year-old veteran of the Civil War who resides between Circleville and Chillicothe on Rural Route No. 6.

ISAAC GRABILL.

In the words of Mr. Grabill: "Spinago went to the base of all my troubles in short order and quickly eliminated the cause of my suffering. For sixty-five years, ever since I left the Army at the close of the war, constant and persistent indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation took all the joy out of life. My daily meals, instead of being a pleasure were a duty for me. I took nourishment only to exist because the terrible gas pains after eating and tired feeling caused by stagnant waste in my body made me dread my meals."

"Exposure during the war made my body susceptible to rheumatism and my weakened condition caused by digestive ailments gave an opening to rheumatic troubles. These pains constantly tore at my limbs, keeping me in agony most of the time."

"I didn't sit back and admit I was beaten during all these years. One after one, I tried every medicine I came across and one after one they failed. With each failure my hope died farther down until I became desperate and despondent, fully believing that for me there was no cure."

"But I had reckoned without Spinago. This medicine was recommended to me last spring, and I decided to take one more trial. You can well imagine my surprise and joy when I noticed a marked improvement after the first bottle. Two bottles and my stomach troubles became only intermittent. Three bottles and all my ailments vanished. No more indigestion and dyspepsia. My food digests easily and my meals are again a pleasure. No more constipation. All waste matter is quickly and completely eliminated from my body. And best of all no more rheumatic pains. I have the full use of my arms and legs now and I can truthfully say that at ninety-one years of age I feel better and more fit than I have since the old army days. And I have Spinago to thank for this wonderful change in me."

Every day hundreds of residents of this vicinity learn by personal experience that indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, stomach, liver and bowel troubles, rheumatism and neuritis simply can't withstand the efficient and powerful action of this master medicine. Every one of the elements contained in Spinago serves a purpose; the cascara to clean and keep open the bowels; the Spinach to supply to the body the necessary iron and to purify and enrich the blood, etc. And with all these components working hand in hand it is little wonder that this new and practical tonic, whose most important ingredient is spinach in concentrated form, can perform feats which seem almost like miracles.

Spinago is sold and guaranteed in Circleville by The Mykranitz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St. and by all other good druggists in this vicinity.—Adv.

Few People Make Best Use of Their Muscles

Practically every one has from 10 to 20 per cent more muscular strength than he is trained to use. Donald A. Lalor says in an article in Hygeia, the health magazine published by the American Medical Association.

Take the simple matter of lifting a heavy weight above the head with one hand, for example. If a person understands how to use his muscles the amount that can be raised can be almost doubled. Suppose that when the arm is hanging at the side 26 pounds is the maximum that can be raised by bending the arm at the elbow. As soon as the forearm is raised so that it is at right angles with the upper arm the weight is handled much more easily.

When the hand carrying the weight is further raised so that it is almost on a level with the shoulder the same muscles have an added advantage and can handle more than 40 pounds. There is an increase of from a 26-pound pull to more than a 40-pound pull simply by a utilization of the knowledge of how the arm muscles and bones work as mechanical levers and forces.

Mystery of Sleep

Science has evolved drugs that will put one to sleep, but just what it is that brings natural sleep is as great a mystery today as it was to the cave man who curled up on his rock mattress, with his flowing beard spread over him as a quilt. It is a commentary on human nature that we are more particular about our food than we are about regular hours of sleep, yet it is a fact, definitely established, that it is possible to live much longer without food than without the benign embrace of Morpheus.

Diamonds are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z play the hand so that they will win all of the tricks against any defense?

Solution: Z should lead the deuce of clubs and A should lead the seven of diamonds. Y should now lead the ten of diamonds. B cannot discard a club for, if he does, Z with two re-entries can set up a club trick. B is, therefore, obliged to discard either a heart or a spade. It makes no difference which of these two suits is discarded as the holding happens to be the same in both hands.

Suppose B discards the queen of hearts. Z should discard the same suit that B discards, so he should discard the four of hearts. A's discard at this stage is immaterial. Z should then lead the ace of clubs and Y should discard the deuce of spades. Z should now lead the trey of clubs. A should discard the ten of hearts and Y should trump with the eight of diamonds.

Y should now lead the nine of diamonds. B cannot discard the king of clubs or Z's four of clubs will be good. Therefore B is obliged to discard the queen of spades. Z discards the four of clubs. A is now forced to discard. If he discards the ten of spades, both of Z's spades are good. If he discards the jack of hearts, Y's trey of hearts and Z's ace of spades are good. In either case, therefore, Y Z must win all of the tricks. It is a fine example of the double "squeeze", that is, of the play that forces both opponents to discard otherwise winning cards. It is a pretty little problem and should be carefully studied.

SALT CREEK-TWP.

LACK OF TALKING

Except for absences due to corn cutting, work at Saltcreek is moving strong from primary through high school. When classes are changing or when the school is assembling from the grounds, there is no loud talking in the hallways by any teacher and there is a minimum of teachers gathering in little groups for prolonged gossiping or worse and neglect of their own rooms. Teachers who are well prepared for their daily work and are real teachers may have some time for friendly gossip and always have time to help and encourage their fellow teachers. Refreshing indeed.

PICKAWAY WINS

After contesting with Pickaway a week ago last Friday, apparently trying to see which team could make the most errors, Pickaway-boys won the game of baseball 24 to 22, while the Pickaway girls won by 25 to 1.

WIN AND LOSE

Last Friday, on our home grounds the Saltcreek boys won from Adelphi 6 to 2 while the Saltcreek girls lost to the Adelphi girls 10 to 5. Baseball is a lost art with the present high school generation. It is a good pastime but as a skill or as an accomplishment it is nil.

PRIZES AT FAIR

The annual Fair will be held again this year on a more extensive scale. Cash prizes will be offered for the various classes of exhibits and a better program will be presented in the evening.

Friday, Oct. 25, is the time—all day, and evening. Trot out your geese and ducks, pile up your potatoes, cord up the corn, measure up the wheat, oats and soy beans and bring them to the Fair with your fruit, fancy work, butter, eggs, bread and cakes as well as your chickens, sheep, pumpkins, squashes, stock, beets, automobile and wife. Bring your basket and enjoy the day.

For housekeepers—an end to fatigue. Cheerfulness in packages: happiness that banishes all frowns. Here, at last, is the joyful new kitchen and laundry helper that you have been waiting for. Read what Mrs. Mathes says: JAMES S. KIRK & CO., Chicago, Ill.

"Cheerio and I are the best of friends. I have used all kinds of soap and they all made my hands rough and grimy. Now I use Cheerio for cleaning everything quickly and my hands are so lovely I am proud of them.

All my neighbors began using Cheerio on my advice and now they wouldn't use anything else for laundering and dish-washing. It whitens clothes, removes stains and makes them look like new, without rubbing."

HOYT'S COMPOUND

MADE ME "NEW"

Declares This Prominent Ohio Resident: Says He is Now a Well Man.

"I am a WELL MAN since taking Hoyt's Compound and I want to endorse it to all sufferers everywhere. These were the exact words of Mr. Oran Adams, 1430 Clifton-ave., Springfield, Ohio.

MR. ORAN ADAMS

"For the past seven years I have suffered terribly from stomach and kidney disorders which seemed to grow worse all the time even though I had spent hundreds of dollars trying different kinds of advertised medicines. My stomach always felt as though a large lump was inside of it. And every time I ate anything the lump would grow larger and be more painful and as would push upward against my heart making it almost impossible for me to breathe. I was continually having pains across my back and shoulders and finally after reading so much praise for Hoyt's Compound I made up my mind to give it a chance to prove its worth.

"The first bottle gave me so much relief that I knew I had at last found a cure so I continued with the treatment and I am improving every day. Every organ in my body seems to function perfectly and my whole system has been improved. I am able to eat healthy meals without suffering ill effects afterward. I will say to you I am now a WELL MAN and I consider Hoyt's Compound the greatest remedy I have ever taken. I want to endorse it to everyone who is in ill health."

Hoyt's Compounds is sold at Wilder's Drug Store in Circleville and by all leading druggists in surrounding towns.

THAT THREE MILL LEVY.

Voters will be asked to vote again for the three mill tax levy for schools.

As it may be confusing, an explanation should be made to everyone that this is not an increase in our taxes, it is simply that the levy must be voted for by the people for a definite period and at the end of that time it is again brought up for approval of the voters. It will not cost us any more than we have been paying and should have the vote of everyone who is interested in the payment of taxes from which we derive the most direct benefit.

No one but a selfish person would vote against this levy. One who has no children in school and thinks for that reason that he is not benefited by the levy. This attitude is not true, however, for everyone even if no person in his family is in school, would be directly affected if the levy failed to pass. Our schools are just like a factory, the teachers are employees and they live and spend their salaries in our community to the benefit of every business man, just as the employees of any factory do. Then if the levy failed to pass the schools would have to retrench and try to operate on insufficient income that would lower the standard of our schools very much below that of the average community which would be something for other communities to point a finger of scorn at. Teachers would have to try to handle too large classes with insufficient time for proper instruction, and consequent lack of discipline, resulting in lax conduct and lowering of the moral standard of the community. Lower salaries teachers would have to be employed and we even now hear the criticism that we can not afford to pay our teachers enough and all our good teachers leave our schools for better paying jobs as soon as they become valuable to us.

Look over the list of our members of the board of education, they are men of sound business judgment and people with whom you would trust important affairs, they are not going to waste any of our money paid for school taxes. Get this straight, you are not voting for additional taxation, it is simply a renewal of what we have been paying for a considerable time, vote for the three mill levy.

216 DISTINCT RELIGIOUS BODIES IN THIS COUNTRY

One Hundred Minor Sects Have 2,000,000 Adherents, According to Recent Survey.

New York.—If asked to name the churches and creeds existing in America the average man could enumerate probably 15 or 20, by thinking back a list beginning alphabetically with Adventists and ranging through the well-established sects to Universalists.

He would miss by much by approximately 200, for by the most authoritative figures obtainable there are at least 216 distinct religious bodies now active in the United States, according to Charles W. Ferguson, who surveys this variegated religious growth in World's Work.

There are 19 divisions of Methodism, now functioning, Ferguson shows. Pentecostals number 18. Presbyterians have 9 different bodies of adherents, and there are 22 kinds of Lutheran churches, 17 major bodies of Mennonites, and 7 divisions of Eastern Orthodox churches.

But aside from these divisions of long-established churches, and apart from the great bodies of Roman Catholics and Jews, there are more than 100 minor sects, whose names, creeds and purposes are unknown to the vast mass of Americans—and most of them are flourishing. Altogether they number more than 2,000,000 adherents.

"Far from being an age of unbelief, this is an age of incredible faith," declares Ferguson. "Certainly we cannot be said to be an irreligious nation; we are so religious that we have become perverse about it. It should be borne in mind that each sect 1 mention represents an entirely serious and complete departure from accepted religious, such as, in all intents and purposes, a new religion."

Some of the recent Protestant organizations noted by Ferguson are: The Apostolic Over-Coughing Holy Church of God, the Church of God, the (Original) Church of God, the Church of God, as Organized by Christ, the North American Old Roman Catholic church, the Pillar of Fire church, the Church of Daniel's band, the Churches of God, Holiness and the Pentecostal Holiness church.

28 Months a Mute, She Coughs and Talks
Safford, Md.—After being mute for 28 months, during which time specialists were able to give no assurance, according to her mother, that her power of speech would ever be regained, Martha Wells, nineteen, today speaks fluently after coughing up a small piece of tube about three-quarters of an inch in length.

In March, 1926, she underwent a tonsil operation. Afterward, according to the family, she became unable to speak except in a bare whisper and with difficulty. While working in a hat and shirt factory recently, Miss Wells was seized with a spell of coughing and emitted the tube but still there was no apparent change in the functioning of her vocal cords.

The next morning, however, she was taken suddenly ill with pains in her throat and a spell of cough which, she said, seemed to be a prelude to strangulation. The coughing brought her an unexpected relief and her older sister, Niece, was startled to hear a voice over her shoulder which, though unfamiliar for over two years, she recognized as that of her sister, exclaiming: "Niece, I can talk."

Now Here Is a Fish:

Feet, Wings and Ears
Beach Haven, N. J.—This fish story cannot be told with zest, because no one has an arm spread of 12 feet. Anyhow, its length—12 feet from head to tip of tail—is not the most remarkable feature of the strange creature hauled in out of the deep here recently by fishermen.

It has a mouth 12 inches long on the top of its head, with no teeth and very hard gums. Its ears are like a pair of wings that in each ear is an eye, and the ears are at the end of the mouth. The gills, four in each side, are four inches long and reach the front of the head. The fish, which was seven feet long and weighed two tons, was like those of a but had a spread of 12 feet. The creature is found on the back and front of the head, and is found in the same place as the fish.

Blue Blood And Red

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.
EDDIE REGAN, once a member of a New York gang, has escaped and gone to Virginia, where he befriends Panfield Paradise, who dies and leaves all his possessions to Eddie. Eddie had been in love with Bernice Veressi, "gang girl," but thought of her as put out of his heart when he meets and falls in love with Marian Thornlike. Eddie declares his love to Marian, but she discourages him and tells him she expects to marry Tom Freeman. Freeman dislikes Eddie, and one afternoon when Eddie is calling on Marian, Freeman comes in and insults Eddie. Eddie tells Eddie it is hopeless for him to love her and Eddie, discouraged, decides to go to Richmond. While he is there he meets Mike Arno, a former member of the "gang." Arno tells him that Bernice is still in love with him (Eddie) and Eddie's thoughts once more swing to her. Mike tries to get Eddie to go back to the city, but Eddie returns to his own home and Marian telephones to him and invites him to call. Freeman listens in and telephones Eddie to meet him and settle things between them. Eddie agrees and when they meet a fight ensues in which Freeman is knocked out.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER XXXI.
I put him in his automobile and drive it myself we could make better time."

he decided. "I don't know exactly where his house is—and besides I couldn't drive up with him and tell his folks that I'd put him out."

Once more he bent over the stricken man and this time, when he straightened up, his own face was white. Freeman's unconsciousness seemed to be deepening.

Eddie scowled, tried to think, and was unable to decide anything in his own mind. He walked over to the automobile—a sedan—and opened one of the doors to the back seat. The thing to do was to get Freeman to some place where he could be taken care of. Returning, he got his arms around the inert form and lugged it to the machine; with a heave he got the bulk through the door and up in the seat. He bundled Freeman's shirt and coat and vest inside too. It didn't matter about the horse and buggy. They could stand hitched. Fortunately, Eddie knew how to drive a car of Freeman's make.

With the engine started, Eddie drove out to the road and, hesitating a moment, turned the wheels in the direction of Marian Thornlike's home.

The blood in his veins was like ice water. He was conscious of a hyness in his mouth. It was no time to stand back on account of petty considerations—he needed help, at once, desperately. Subconsciously, he knew it was an awful imposition upon Marian to bring this terrifying sight before her house—to lay it on her.

He thought of her, the pale girl of her bewitching sensitive and protected and ethereal, but he remembered, too, that he had always sensed in her, beneath the surface, the polished steel of gallantry and courage.

Now that she would not fail him or Tom Freeman. There was the work of gallantry about her, but Eddie realized suddenly that Marian Thornlike, fragile as she was, was strong enough to manage them both and help them get their heads out among the stars.

With Tom Freeman's car parked just outside the entrance of Marian's home, Eddie turned, his face pale, to the stricken man. He greeted him with a stammer, she was aware of his strangeness about him.

Senator Sheppard, of Texas, one of the ardent Democratic sponsors of Prohibition, offered an amendment in the Senate to make the purchaser of liquor equally liable with the seller. His proposal is believed to have little chance of adoption during this session of Congress.

Early American Architect

The first professional architect in America was Peter Harrison. He probably arrived in this country in 1645. While engaged in designing the Redwood library at Newport, R. I., he was invited to prepare plans for the rebuilding of King's chapel, Boston. In 1701 Harrison built the Brick Market house at Newport, R. I., afterward used for a city hall. He died in New Haven April 30, 1775, at the age of fifty-nine.

Travel by Rail

It seems that the average American now makes 23 railroad trips a year. This makes them about the world's best travelers so far as the rails are concerned. Americans go farther and oftener, but the motor car does the big business in human movement in this country.

Notice to the public

SUPPOSE you are today paying 50c a tube for your tooth paste (and there are many very good dentifrices selling today at that price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about twelve tubes during a year. Now if you knew that you could buy as good a dentifrice as can be made and still save each year the price of 25 loaves of bread or 60 bars of soap or 40 pounds of sugar or a box of fine cigars—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

That is exactly what you do when you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Figure it out for yourself.

Traffic Officer Nabs

Eel for Jaywalking

Stockholm.—To arrest an eel for jaywalking must be regarded as an unusual duty for a traffic policeman. Still, this happened in Stockholm recently near the royal palace when an eel was found wriggling across the street. A crowd speedily gathered, blocking traffic, and then a policeman hovered in view. After many vain attempts to get hold of the slippery fish the officer finally managed with the aid of some newspapers to secure a firm grip on it, after which he trotted it off to the police station. There it was found that it had slipped from a truckload of eels, which had passed down the street from the fish market.

CHAPTER XXXI. "If I put him in his automobile and drive it myself we could make better time," he decided. "I don't know exactly where his house is—and besides I couldn't drive up with him and tell his folks that I'd put him out."

Subconsciously, he knew it was an awful imposition upon Marian to bring this terrifying silent object to her house—to lay it, practically, at her feet.

He thought of her, the pale gold of her loveliness sensitive and protected and ethereal, but he remembered, too, that he had always sensed in her, beneath the surface, the polished steel of gallantry and courage.

In a pinch he knew that she would not fail him—or Tom Freeman. There was the muck of brutality about both men, but Eddie realized solemnly that Marian Thorndike, fragile as she was, was strong enough to cleanse them both and help them get their heads up among the stars.

With Tom Freeman's car parked close outside the veranda of Marian's house, Eddie hastened, his face pale, to the door. Marian herself greeted him. Instantly she was aware of some strangeness about him.

gether they returned to the car. Marian was excited, but little perturbation showed through the sudden grim shell she developed.

"We'll get him into a bed," she said.

One of the negro women servants was available and she took hold of Freeman's legs, while Eddie lifted his heavy body. It was like carrying iron weight as they struggled up the broad stairs. Marian preceded them and turned back the cover of the bed to a square, high-ceilinged room. The negro woman was pop-eyed with curiosity, but Marian, thinking rapidly, satisfied her.

"Mr. Freeman had a fall," she exclaimed, realizing the necessity of concealing from servants' gossip the brutal truth.

"He ain't got a shirt on!" the black woman muttered, in awed astonishment.

"That's all right," Eddie put in, his face pale, to the door. Marian herself greeted him. Instantly she was aware of some strangeness about him.

"I took off his shirt and threw water on him to bring him to." Marian told the woman to go downstairs and crack a pan of ice.

Early American Architect

The first professional architect in America was Peter Harrison. He probably arrived in this country in 1845. While engaged in designing the Redwood library at Newport, R. I., he was invited to prepare plans for the rebuilding of King's chapel, Boston. In 1701 Harrison built the Brick Market house at Newport, R. I., afterward used for a city hall. He died in New Haven April 30, 1775, at the age of fifty-nine.

Travel by Rail

It seems that the average carman now makes 23 railroad trips a year. This makes them about the world's best travelers so far as the rails are concerned. Americans go farther and oftener, but the motor car does the big business in human movement in this country.

Notice to the public

SUPPOSE you are today paying 50c a tube for your tooth paste (and there are many very good dentifrices selling today at that price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about twelve tubes during a year. Now if you knew that you could buy as good a dentifrice as can be made and still save each year the price of 25 loaves of bread or 60 bars of soap or 40 pounds of sugar or a box of fine cigars—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

That is exactly what you do when you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Figure it out for yourself.

HULA DANCERS IN FEATURE AT MET

A circus was almost stranded in Los Angeles as the result of the filming of "Sailor's Holiday," a dialogue comedy featuring Alan Hale and Sally Eilers which will be on view at the Met theater Friday and Saturday.

It was necessary to find six hula dancers for one sequence of the picture, and reading of the presence of a small travelling circus in an outlying district of the city, Director Fred Newmeyer felt certain he could find there a group of the interpreters of the Hawaiian dances, who invariably are seen with any tent show.

His hunch proved correct and eight grass-skirted damsels were offered an engagement in the picture, working at the studio during the daytime, and continuing their circus engagements in the evening. However, the far-fabled cinematic bug bit the sinuous ladies very badly, and it required considerable persuasion both on the part of the circus proprietor and the studio executives, who did not want to feel responsible for the breach of contract, to get them to move on with the show.

"Sailor's Holiday," a comedy written by Joseph Franklin Poland has Alan Hale in its leading role. Sally Eilers has the principal feminine part, while George Cooper and Paul Hurst give important characterizations.

A LIFE JOB IS REWARDED

Ralph Whitehouse, coast guard recruiting officer (left), congratulating Capt. John O. Anderson (right) on thirtieth year of service and record of saving 2,089 lives in wrecks and storms on the Great Lakes. Fred E. Stebbins, also of Chicago life saving station, is in the center.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—A blond giant of a man, with a voice that booms above the roar of surf or the howl of hurricane—a Viking, come down through many generations of Viking forebears—turned timid last night and blushed and laughed in awkward, self-conscious bursts.

The largest room of the coast guard station at the mouth of the Chicago River was crowded with visitors. Capt. John Olaf Anderson, station commander, and Ma Anderson and John Olaf Jr., who is 11, had been pressed, much to their embarrassment, into a receiving line and made to shake the scores of hands that were extended.

Members of the coast guard stations and several dozen civilians had joined to give the Cap'n. a surprise party upon the thirtieth anniversary of his enlistment in coast guard service. The civilians, almost to a man, were among those whom Anderson and his men had literally plucked from death some place in Lake Michigan.

There were many stories told during the evening of rescues accomplished against fearful odds. But although every story concerned him, the Cap'n told not a single one.

One yarn dealt with the night of Nov. 14, 1919, when Capt. Anderson and a crew were delivering a sub-chaser and were on Lake Superior, off Grand Marais. The steamer Reynolds, with 17 men aboard, was being knocked to pieces by hammering cakes of ice.

From the shore Anderson shot a line across the Reynolds' pilot house, but the line froze so that the breeches buoy could not be used. So, in a surf boat he made four separate trips to the ship. On each trip he changed his crew of six, because all the rescue party save himself were exhausted.

Those 17 that Anderson took off the Reynolds that night, added to others that he has saved, brings his life-saving record to date up to 2,089.

Nothing Shocking in Jap's Change of Altire

In the West we have a gentle man's agreement that disrobing should be confined to the bedroom and bathroom or at any rate to some place behind closed doors. Not so in Japan. One hot day in a train traveling from Kobe to Kyoto I witnessed an incident that showed the Japanese can adopt a really common sense attitude to clothes.

It was a third class carriage. A few seats ahead of me was a Japanese passenger who was beginning to feel the heat. His silk shirt was wet and clammily. Something must be done about it. One could read this in his mind.

He had his remedy. He stood up and removed his shirt. Then he found that his undershirt was also soaked. He removed that and dried his naked torso. From his suitcase he produced a clean under shirt and a clean cool shirt, which he proceeded to don with perfect unconcern and irreproachable modesty. As far as I could judge he changed every stitch of clothing, with never a quiver, and finished triumphantly—a reborn, revived rejuvenated human being. In this hot train in Japan, I felt a whole affair seemed the most natural and sensible thing to do in the circumstances.

Persian "Medical" Treatment

In Persia it is believed those who are sick are possessed with a devil. So when a child of one of the leading Americans there falls ill the head servant who is very fond of this particular child offers to take the disease and exorcise it. He is sick in bed. And the other servants work their own magic. They take a chunk of cake, poison and some other article which have been given magic powers, and hold them over the child's head. The sickness is now gone, the child's natural courage is restored and improves. gets well. The treatment of the servants is pretty effective. The same as it was written in China last year in the 1921 in The Heron.

MR. LOUIS GRECO
"I spent all I had in a vain search for something to relieve my indigestion but without result," said Mr. Louis Greco, 1531 West 67th Street, Cleveland, Ohio. "Whatsoever I ate no matter how light it caused gas bloating and abdominal pains. Iached all over and was stiff and sore. My general health was at low ebb because I got but little good out of what I did eat."

Konjola was recommended to me and I decided to see what it would do. Day by day I improved. In every way, and in three weeks I found that I could eat things I didn't eat before. I am never bothered with gas or bloating and the abdominal pains have vanished. Konjola is certainly a wonderful medicine and I endorse it to all who suffer as I did."

CARTER'S LITTLE MILLS

OHIO mother proves her idea is right...

"My little son was bilious and upset," says Mrs. F. L. Wideman, 19800 Shaker Blvd., Cleveland. "He had no appetite, his breath was bad, his tongue was coated, and he didn't want to do anything."

"He seemed to have trouble with his stomach and bowels and I had an idea California Fig Syrup would help him. He brightened up marvelously with the first few doses. At the end of a week, he was a different boy. I have used California Fig Syrup with him every time he has had a cold or upset, and I give it a lot of credit for his wonderful condition."

California Fig Syrup never fails to cleanse the system of bilious, headachy, feverish or constipated children, quickly and gently. It never gripes or sickens. Children love its flavor. A pure vegetable product with the highest endorsement of doctors. It helps Nature give tone and strength to the stomach and bowels.

All drug stores have the generous bottles. The name "California" marks the genuine.

Expect Cornhuskers To Beat Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—(IN 8)—How much has Ohio State improved since last Saturday when the best it could do after being held scoreless in the first half, was to run up only 19 points against the Wittenberg college gridders?

That is the question in the minds of the followers of the Scarlet and Gray today.

If State has improved somewhat between 50 and 100 per cent, it may have a chance of beating Iowa here tomorrow afternoon. Sam Williamson's men probably haven't improved anywhere near 50 per cent. Consequently the natural deduction is that those husky guys from out where the tall corn grows will cop the grid-iron battle in Ohio stadium tomorrow.

GLASSGOW HURT

Iowa would appear to be almost a cinch if it were certain Captain Glasgow of the Corn Huskers would be in top form throughout the game. After being injured about the head in the Monmouth game last Saturday, Glasgow donned his uniform for the first time again Wednesday. A lot of bear stories have emanated from the Iowa camp that the shifty Hawk-eye captain will not play on Ohio stadium Saturday. If he really doesn't, Ohio ought to have a fair chance of victory. But if he does—and he most likely will—well, it may just be too bad for the wear-ers of the Scarlet and Gray.

This writer doesn't believe in making predictions, for, like the rest of the dopesters, he is usually in error. So tomorrow's score won't be presaged.

However, if said writer were in the habit of prognosticating scores he'd guess:

Iowa, 20; Ohio State 0.

RACER HERE

POSTPONE FIGHTS

There will be no boxing matches at the Grand theater next Wednesday due to the Pumpkin Show.

Every week afterward there will be the usual 12 rounds of all-star boxing bouts.

Ambassador, in Theory, Ranks Above Minister

An ambassador is head of an embassy and a minister is head of a legation. Under international law and usage an ambassador is the personal representative of a sovereign or head of a state, and is accredited directly to the head or sovereign of another state. A minister is, under international law and usage, the representative of the government (as distinct from the head of the state) and is accredited to the government of another state. Theoretically an ambassador has the right to converse directly with the sovereign or head of the state to which he is accredited, and likewise may correspond directly with the sovereign or head of his own country. A minister on the other hand, in theory carries on his correspondence with the minister of foreign affairs of the state to which he is accredited, and similarly corresponds with his own government through the minister of foreign affairs of his own country. In practice the duties of an ambassador and a minister are the same. At a social and official function an ambassador, on account of his superior rank, takes precedence over a minister.

Zinc in Industry

Starting with the Nineteenth century the increase in the use of zinc was decidedly accelerated. During the first decade the production was estimated at 6,000 tons. In the fifth decade the output had jumped to 367,000 tons, and for the half century the total was 635,000 tons. The output of the second half century reached the amazing total of 12,100,000 tons, or an increase of 1,800 per cent. The acceleration has continued, and in the year 1927 the output was 1,444,000 tons, a total equal to the production of the first 60 years of the Nineteenth century.

Nearly one-third of the entire world's output of zinc has been produced in the United States.

Salvation Army Titles

It is to Eliah Cadman, a humble chimney-sweep of Coventry, to whom the credit for the military ranks and titles of the Salvation Army must really go, writes a contributor in London Tribuna. Once known as "King of the Rungs," Cadman was converted and became an ardent Salvationist. He was given charge of a mission and began to call himself "captain in God's army to fight the devil." To mark William Booth as his superior officer, Cadman called him "general." And because William Booth knew well the value of a dramatic appeal to the popular mind, the titles, after some hesitation due to modesty on William Booth's own part, were accepted.

Court of Dusty Feet

What is a Pie-powder court? It seems that as long ago as the Norman conquest, says E. S. Martin, in Harper's Magazine, and even earlier, trading was done considerably in England, as also in Normandy, in fairs that were licensed and lasted a week or more. Of course there were disputes between sellers and buyers, and to settle them there were instituted courts of prompt and final decision, which were called "Pie-powder courts; that is, courts of the dusty feet, a name which English tongues inevitably transmuted into pie-powder. Wasn't that a pretty turn of language?

Three Song Hits Featured In New Screen Comedy

An entire musical comedy was staged for scenes in "Twin Beds" the First National-Vitaphone comedy which stars Jack Mulhall and which will be shown at the Cliftona theater Friday and Saturday.

An elaborate production, with a huge orchestra, a dancing chorus of 50 and a large cast of principals will be seen, and heard in this colorful feature of the screen version of the famous stage farce by Margaret Mayo and Salisbury Field.

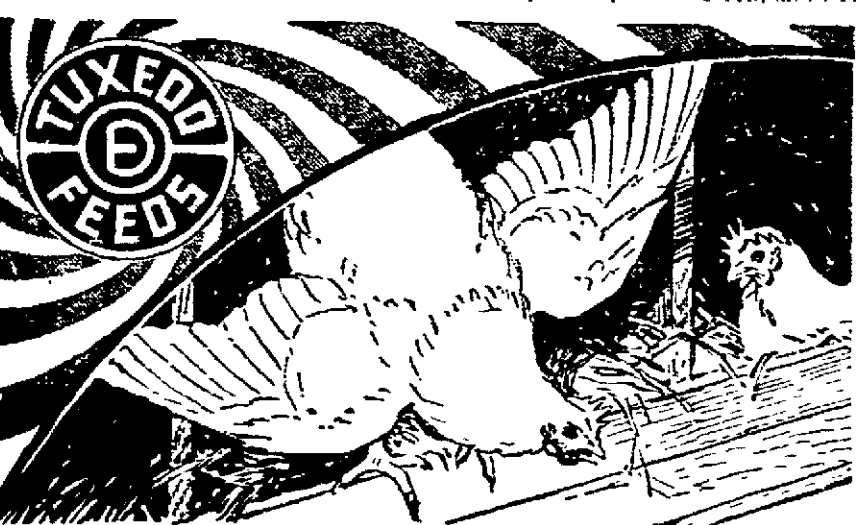

Three song hits, "If You Were Mine," "The Chicken Walk" and "My Wee Bonnie Jean," are introduced in the picture. All were written especially for the production by Al Bryan and Geo. W. Meyer, famous Broadway song writers.

"Twin Beds" was directed by Alfred Santell, and features an all-comedy cast, without a single villain. Paasy Ruth Miller is seen in the feminine lead and others in the cast are Eddie Gribbon, Alice Lake, Edythe Chapman, Knute Erickson, Ben Hendricks Jr., Nita Martin Jocelyn Lee, Armond Kalitz, Gertrude Astor and many.

The story deals with the adventures that befall a young song writer who is called away from his bride in their wedding night. It abounds with funny situations, and in addition, has a number of big spectacular scenes, such as the musical comedy performance.

"Twin Beds" provides an ideal vehicle for the popular Jack Mulhall, and will appeal to theatre-goers who like their entertainment liberally sprinkled with laughter.

Blue Paint Unpopular With Deep-Sea Sailors
Seafarers in general are emphatic in their dislikes of blue paint on a vessel. It is a deep-rooted belief with them that bad luck will follow the use of the color. Twenty-five years or so ago the Donna Briggs, a little three-masted coasting schooner, was a familiar caller at ports between New Scotland and Boston. The men of the sea and ships declared that whenever she dropped anchor a storm followed. The schooner's hull was blue.
"I recall that a few years ago, said a Fulton Market fish dealer, "we engaged a Gloucester skipper to go down to a Maine port and bring back a schooner that had just been launched for us. When he found they had painted the hulls blue he picked up his grip and started back for the railroad station."—New York Times.

Expressed
An Irishman entered his local post office and told the young woman to forward an express letter. He placed the usual fee on the counter, but was informed that an additional sixpence would be required as the addressee lived some considerable distance outside the delivery area.
The Irishman seemed rather puzzled at this request, but after a moment's hesitation ventured: "Well, you let the letter go as it is. I don't want to pay the extra sixpence, but I'll write to them and tell them to go to the office and collect it."

Prices of Wheat and Flour It takes five bushels of wheat to make one barrel of flour. A barrel of flour makes 300 loaves of bread. For every change in price of flour of $1 per barrel, the baker's cost is affected to the extent of one third of one cent for each one pound loaf. In short, wheat would have to either advance or fall 10 cents per bushel, before it could affect the price of bread one cent per loaf.

New Hospital Is Subject Of Talk By Dr. L. Jonnes

Dr. Lloyd Jonnes spoke Thursday evening on "The New Hospital" before the Business and Professional Women's club, at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The manner of the approach to the subject was unusual. He mentioned the early medical work being done by the clergy, who later gave over this physical side to the medical profession, they still dispensed spiritual aid.

Dr. Jonnes stated that life, like Gaul, is divided into three parts—youth, adult and the aged.

He showed that the hospital is an organization whose primary purpose is to care for the diseases of the adult or mature persons. Probably the second purpose is to provide a place for safe scientific obstetrical work. The opportunity it will afford for quick aid in emergency as well as a place for treatment of the indigent poor, is also an important factor of the new hospital, and instances were cited by the speaker, who said these should be considered.

Comparison with other hospitals showed how much superior the Circleville hospital will be in some respects, and how favorably it compares with the best in others. Bed capacity was approximated and the problem of upkeep touched.

Dr. Jonnes explained how such an institution would tend to keep the medical profession to its highest standard, and how it needed the earnest co-operation of the citizens in order to be a success.

The address was only a general discussion of the hospital, yet there were phases explained which

probably had not been considered by his audience which represented an important group of the town's population.

Mrs. Winifred Given, presided at this meeting, in the absence of the president, Miss Mary Wilder. The club decided to have a booth during the Pumpkin Show. It will be located in the yard of Miss Sally Lynch's residence on E. Main-st.

MUSICAL COMEDY IN ASHVILLE

A musical comedy in three acts entitled "Cool Knights" will be presented in the Ashville high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, Oct. 15, by the local Camp Fire girls and our Parent-Teacher Association.

Nearly 100 young folks will take part in this production. The play opens at the campus of Ozark university. Because of a lost football game the girls form a Man-Haters' League. To console their broken hearts, the boys organize the Royal Order of Cool Knights and decide to go to Moon Island in the Pacific, where no civilized woman has ever set foot. In the meantime the girls start on an ocean voyage and are shipwrecked off the coast of Moon Island—and are there when the "Cool Knights" arrive. Then the fun begins. If you want to enjoy a good laugh you can't afford to miss this show. But if you are of a timid nature you had better stay away—because there will be pirates and ghouls and tigers and all sorts of spooky things.

BAD LUCK OMENS TO BRISTLE ON HALLOWE'EN

All Hallows' Eve will witness a festive party and supper at the Pickaway Country club on Halloween night, Thursday, Oct. 31st. Arrangements are being made and committees appointed to make this event one of genuine pleasure for every member attending. A mingling of the old-fashioned Halloween features with the new—will be staged.

A supper served in novel style by a number of masculine club members will open the affair. During the evening one may play bridge, Five Hundred or go dancing. And, for those who desire to indulge in pleasures reminiscent of childhood days—there will be apple bobbing—prize dancers, a magic witch pond—and a number of surprise events, all planned to the spirit of real jack-o'-lanterns, witches and black cats.

Efforts will be made to make this club party a one hundred percent attendance event. It will be open house and each member may bring a guest.

Announcements of committees and further plans will be made at a later date.

New Hospital Is Subject Of Talk By Dr. L. Jonnes

Dr. Lloyd Jonnes spoke Thursday evening on "The New Hospital" before the Business and Professional Women's club, at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The manner of the approach to the subject was unusual. He mentioned the early medical work being done by the clergy, who later gave over this physical side to the medical profession, they still dispensed spiritual aid.

Dr. Jonnes stated that life, like Gaul, is divided into three parts—youth, adult and the aged.

He showed that the hospital is an organization whose primary purpose is to care for the diseases of the adult or mature persons. Probably the second purpose is to provide a place for safe scientific obstetrical work. The opportunity it will afford for quick aid in emergency as well as a place for treatment of the indigent poor, is also an important factor of the new hospital, and instances were cited by the speaker, who said these should be considered.

Comparison with other hospitals showed how much superior the Circleville hospital will be in some respects, and how favorably it compares with the best in others. Bed capacity was approximated and the problem of upkeep touched.

Dr. Jonnes explained how such an institution would tend to keep the medical profession to its highest standard, and how it needed the earnest co-operation of the citizens in order to be a success.

The address was only a general discussion of the hospital, yet there were phases explained which

probably had not been considered by his audience which represented an important group of the town's population.

Mrs. Winifred Given, presided at this meeting, in the absence of the president, Miss Mary Wilder. The club decided to have a booth during the Pumpkin Show. It will be located in the yard of Miss Sally Lynch's residence on E. Main-st.

MUSICAL COMEDY IN ASHVILLE

A musical comedy in three acts entitled "Cool Knights" will be presented in the Ashville high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, Oct. 15, by the local Camp Fire girls and our Parent-Teacher Association.

Nearly 100 young folks will take part in this production. The play opens at the campus of Ozark university. Because of a lost football game the girls form a Man-Haters' League. To console their broken hearts, the boys organize the Royal Order of Cool Knights and decide to go to Moon Island in the Pacific, where no civilized woman has ever set foot. In the meantime the girls start on an ocean voyage and are shipwrecked off the coast of Moon Island—and are there when the "Cool Knights" arrive. Then the fun begins. If you want to enjoy a good laugh you can't afford to miss this show. But if you are of a timid nature you had better stay away—because there will be pirates and ghouls and tigers and all sorts of spooky things.

BAD LUCK OMENS TO BRISTLE ON HALLOWE'EN

All Hallows' Eve will witness a festive party and supper at the Pickaway Country club on Halloween night, Thursday, Oct. 31st. Arrangements are being made and committees appointed to make this event one of genuine pleasure for every member attending. A mingling of the old-fashioned Halloween features with the new—will be staged.

A supper served in novel style by a number of masculine club members will open the affair. During the evening one may play bridge, Five Hundred or go dancing. And, for those who desire to indulge in pleasures reminiscent of childhood days—there will be apple bobbing—prize dancers, a magic witch pond—and a number of surprise events, all planned to the spirit of real jack-o'-lanterns, witches and black cats.

Efforts will be made to make this club party a one hundred percent attendance event. It will be open house and each member may bring a guest.

Announcements of committees and further plans will be made at a later date.

PEP MEETING SENDS STATE TO ANN ARBOR

Coffee Shows Great Improvement and May Be Big Factor Saturday.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—(INS.)—Three thousand loyal students, perhaps more, and all wearing the "scarlet and gray" of Ohio State University here will stage a huge pep meeting and rally at a northside campus intersection tonight to wish their gridiron warriors bon voyage on their trek to Ann Arbor to "beat Michigan."

After running through the long line of cheers from "yea Ohio," to the "sis-boom-bah" of the locomotive, and the school song, "Fight On, Ohio," the students will form a huge parade which will precede the Buckeye moleskin wearers to the Union Depot here.

William's squad will entrain for Ypsilanti, Mich., which is not far from Ann Arbor. Busses will take Holman, McConnell, Horn, Holcomb, Fessler and the remainder of Ohio's team to Ann Arbor Saturday morning, and on the afternoon of that day, the old feud will be renewed with victory for Ohio or Michigan, the scribe doesn't know which.

But, if, (to use that little two letter preposition) one can judge by the practice workouts of William's charges, Ohio has at least more than a slim hope for a win.

William, who played on Ohio's team back in 1911 or 1912 against Michigan, will be going back for revenge. The Wolverines beat Ohio on that October day many years ago, but perhaps there will be a different story to tell after the sun goes down Saturday, leaving only the memory of a great football game in the minds of the 80,000 people who are expected to crowd into the Michigan stands.

At the workout yesterday, the varsity was given the stiffest scrimmage it has had so far during the present season. The regulars weren't put on the offensive, but the defensive, and a second team tried to run the Michigan plays through the forward wall. The varsity line proved to be a brick wall, however.

COFFEE GOOD

Coffee, a substitute halfback this year, has been showing a great ability for broken field running and when the strain becomes too great for either McConnell or Horn he may be thrown into the Michigan fray.

Ohio looked hot yesterday, and if the backfield has a scoring punch, the Wolverines may have bitten off a bigger bite than they can chew when they scheduled Ohio, for a game this early in the season.

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip For You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at Hamilton & Ryan's or any drug store (lasts 2 months) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.—Adv.

THOMAS—HALFBACK—

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 17.—Determined to dedicate Selby Field with a victory, Ohio Wesleyan's football team is showing more fight this week than at any other time this year. Ohio's defeat of the Bishops promises to augur ill for the Miami team which comes here Saturday for Coach Gauthier's squad is fighting mad and is showing new life.

Ohio Wesleyan's hopes to dedicate Selby Field victoriously will depend to a large extent on the play of the group of senior veterans pictured here. Merwin Breese, Mt. Gilead, half and quarterback, is the boy who piloted the Bishops to their 17 to 7 victory over Michigan last year. Breese does anything that you can ask a back to do. He punts, passes, flashes in the open field, and can plow through a line.

Charles "Chuck" Wertz, Toledo, halfback, scored the touchdown which enabled Ohio Wesleyan to defeat Syracuse last year. Wertz punts well and passes but his greatest assets are speed and shiftness. Francis Thomas, Ravenna, halfback, is another fast elusive runner and one of the best forward pass throwers the Bishops have.

Cyrus McKinney, Newark, fullback, has been hampered by injuries this season but his play during the past two seasons gave ample indication that he can rip up a line for plenty of yardage when he is right. McKinney also backs up the Bishop line.

James Blair, Chillicothe, center, is one of the most consistent players on the Bishop squad and fights every minute of the game. His absence from the Bishop lineup against Ohio due to an injury had much to do with Ohio Wesleyan's defeat at Athens last Saturday. He will be ready to go against Miami.

Fine old SWP gives the best paint results at lowest cost

SWP is the world's greatest paint bargain. Come in and we will prove this in the most convincing way—with a complete estimate on the amount of SWP needed to paint your entire house. It costs less to paint your house with SWP because fewer gallons are needed. This fine paint has such a wonderful body that each gallon thoroughly covers many more square feet of surface.

In addition to what you save on first cost, think of how much you save on repainting. SWP lasts five years, on the average—over twice as long as cheaper paint would. SWP with its positive protection—long durability and clean, rich colors that retain their beauty to the very last—gives you the best possible paint job.

Now is the time to paint. Remember, ruinous winter neglects nothing. Your house, the garage, fences—anything exposed to its merciless punishment should have an armor-like coating of SWP to avoid costly damage. Come in and see our latest color schemes.

Needless Pain!

Some folks take pain for granted. They let a cold "run its course." They wait for their headaches to "wear off." If suffering from neuralgia or from neuritis, they rely on feeling better in the morning. Meantime, they suffer unnecessary pain. Unnecessary, because there is an antidote. Bayer Aspirin always offers immediate relief from various aches and pains we once had to endure. If pain persists, consult your doctor as to its cause. Save yourself a lot of pain and discomfort through the many uses of Bayer Aspirin. Protect yourself by buying the genuine. Bayer is safe. Always the same. All drugstores.

Insured Buying!

There's a way of insuring your buying against wasted money and unsatisfactory merchandise. And that insurance costs you not a penny. It is always paid up to date and in full force.

That insurance is the advertising here in your newspaper. Advertised products are standardized, perfected and carefully priced before they are ever advertised.

Whether you are buying soap, clothing, shoes, toothpaste, food or electrical household appliances, the result is the same. You get reliable, economical merchandise whenever you buy by the advertisements.

Make up your insured shopping list in the comfort and quiet of your own home. Compare the merits of the products advertised. Study the way in which each is adapted to your needs.

You'll find advertising truthful, informing and interesting. That's the only sort that pays, you know.

'KONJOLA FREED ME FROM ALL MY HEALTH TROUBLES'

Stomach and Kidney Troubles, and Nervousness, Too, Quickly Routed By Famous Remedy.

MRS. HATTIE MIXER

"One of the main causes of my suffering was the poor condition of my stomach," said Mrs. Hattie Mixer, R. F. D. No. 2, Ashland, Ohio. "Food did not agree with me, and gas formed on my stomach after every meal. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells and was very restless. Then, too, I suffered from the poor condition of my kidneys.

"A friend recommended Konjola to me and I gave it a trial. How glad I am that I did! My stomach and kidney troubles have disappeared—vanished as if by magic. My nerves are as calm and strong as they ever were. I eat and sleep well, and wake up in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. Konjola worked wonders in my case and I never lose an opportunity to praise it."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, Ohio, at the Hamilton & Ryan drug store, and by the best druggists in all the towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.
